

Weekes has put together two remanufacturing facilities located in Green Bay and Jackson, Wisconsin with quality and customer service in mind. We have made the commitment to provide top quality and a wide range of capabilities to help our customers expand their production and custom woodworking needs.

REMANUFACTURING EXPERTS

- In-house design — so projects meet your exact specifications
- Programming expertise — leveraging the latest developments in technology
- Sales, marketing and logistic services — to improve your competitive positioning and profitability
- All of your industrial sheet stock needs delivered in mill sizes or cut and machined to your specifications.
- Custom engineering department to help with those hard to produce or production bottleneck parts.
- Increase your production and work load without the shop expansion expense or floor space commitment.
- Supply a quality product custom fit to your production schedule in short lead times.
- J.I.T. (Just in time) deliveries. Decrease your material inventory. We can set up daily or weekly deliveries to match your production load so it is not necessary to stock six to eight weeks of material due to long lead times.

We have the solutions to improve your productivity and competitive edge.
